FIRST ACCESS INSTALLATION

First Access automatically guides you through the installation. Once it is installed on a computer, you do not have to do it again. In a school setting the Technician will do it because you must have administrative rights. Often times teachers will not have the necessary rights. In a home setting, you should have administrative rights and therefore, you will have no problem running the install.

The first screen that appears has First Access on the Internet Explore Bar. You will also get this message.

Click "Click here..." and then click on "Install The Add on for All Users on The Computer"....

Before moving to the Reading selection of the Theme "Against the Law", click Basic 1 – Enhanced to see how the Writing Module is integrated into English Discoveries.

The Writing Module

The Companion Series for English Discoveries includes: the Writing Module for each level from First Discoveries through Advanced 3, English Across the Curriculum (content based material), and Transition to Work. Each activity begins with a selection from English Discoveries and expands to additional skill areas. The Teacher's Guide lists the skills that are addressed in each activity. The Writing can be used after the student has completed the eight thematic units or it can be integrated into the thematic units. The following demonstrates how the Writing Module is integrated into the thematic units. Since the student just listened to the Mystery with Sergio Montenegro, the writing activity that is based on that selection will be presented.

VVIIting Module and then click Lesson.

Click Writing Module and then click Lesson.

Click "this icon" and save the module to your Desktop.

The student can type in the document and save it. It can be printed or sent it to the teacher as it is completed.

Assignment 2 - Students will write about character, plot and create dialog. Students will be able to: write about persons, objects, and events; recognize and writedialog; write expressively, for example, create dialog.

Scroll down to Activity 2Å of the Basic 1 Writing. You will see that the student is instructed to listen to the Mystery selection that we just listened to. The first part of the activity requires the student to list the characters, describe the setting and list important events.

Take this opportunity to review the various activities in Basic 1 Writing. Ask your local representative for a copy of the Teacher's Guide if you have not already received it.

After reviewing the Writing Module, we will return to the theme "Against the Law" to see the Reading, Speaking and Grammar components. Click "Basic 1 – Enhanced", and "Against the Law".

Background for English Across the Curriculum

The Community Website includes articles based on: the Environment, Science and Technology, Business, the World, Health, Arts and Entertainment, Lifestyles, Sports and General Interest. New articles are available each month and Literature will be made available in the near future.

English Across the Curriculum has taken approximately eighty (80) of these articles and presents them in a Before Reading, Reading and After Reading format. The selections are content based and emphasize the development of higher order thinking skills. Each article is written at a Basic, Intermediate and Advanced level so students of various proficiency levels can explore the same concepts.

As with the Writing Module, the material is in a pdf format and is designed to be saved to the Desktop. The student can type in the document or print it out and complete the Before Reading and After Reading sections. Reading the selection is done online where the student has access to a glossary and dictionary.

Click "Hurricanes". (Blank areas are for new titles which are added on a regular basis.)

After reviewing "English Across the Curriculum", Click "Basic 1 Enrichment" and then "Transition To Work".

Transition To Work, authored by Dr. Louisa Rogers who also did the Writing Module, was created by identifying the "Transition to Work Competencies". Each activity in the Transition To Work module begins with a selection from English Discoveries that reflects one or more of those competencies.

Click "Transition To Work" then click "Lessons". Review the material.

After reviewing the material, click Community to visit the Community Website. Now, that you understand how to navigate through the program, click on the different components to see what is provided.

To demonstrate that feature a little more clearly, the screen to the right shows several modules opened and some have checkmarks and other do not. Those with checkmarks can be accessed by the student. Those without checkmarks cannot be accessed. This can vary from student to student.

Click on the X to close the window.

You are back to the opening screen. You are now ready to log out.
